

Dundrum Town Centre - Ireland

ASVS provides smoke protection to largest retail centre in Ireland

Dundrum was one of the very first locations in the country to open a purpose-built shopping centre back in 1971. On March 3, 2005 a far larger shopping centre named 'Dundrum Town Centre', was opened for business just south of the village. This new retail complex is believed to be the biggest shopping centre in Europe, containing one the largest multi-screen cinemas in Ireland.

Coopers' distributors in Ireland, ASVS, worked in conjunction with the project's main Architects and Consultants over a period over several months both prior to, and during the construction to successfully install a fully integrated smoke containment system into the centre. ASVS has been operating in partnership with Coopers for more than 15 years designing and supplying smoke and fire barriers to the Irish market.

Dundrum Town Centre brings together many of the world famous names in retail. Multi-national companies including: Marks and Spencer, Tesco Ireland, House of Fraser, Harvey Nichols, Penney's, Next, plus the first Irish branches of Hennes & Mauritz (H&M), and Starbucks Coffee, all have units within the new complex.

Dundrum Town Centre heralds a new fashion centre that is second to none both in Ireland and mainland Europe. A centre that is protected by a Coopers SmokeStop smoke containment system.
